Background: The Ministry of Transportation, formerly Department of Transportation or Departemen Perhubungan, is a government ministry responsible for the governance and regulation of transport in Indonesia. The ministry has more than 20 official colleges (high schools, academies) majoring on Land Transportation, Sea Transportation and Civil Aviation Transportation spread throughout Indonesia. The Ministry of Transportation is somewhat aggressive in improving the quality of academies. Through the Transportation Human Resources Development Agency (BPSDM), the ministry of transportation supports colleges' quality. One of the Ministry of Transportation's concrete actions is through improving data, services, skills of the students in the colleges and training institution. This is in accordance with the direction of the Minister of Transportation, Mr. Budi Karya Sumardi, who wants all schools under the auspices of the BPSDM to become a world-class university, so that alumni can be more aligned and compete in the international market. In order to reach the goal, the colleges are encouraged to collaborate with organization which has international networks, such as Dejavato.

Dejavato has been cooperating with some colleges under auspices of BPSDM since 2017, and placed the International volunteers in some schools. Dejavato also sent their several students (called cadets) to volunteering abroad. Health issues: The Government of the Republic of Indonesia implemented new health procedures aimed at screening international arrivals for entry into their territory. These protocols include requiring every entrant to submit to Polymerase Chain Reaction (PCR) tests to identify those who are infected with the coronavirus even without externally apparent symptoms. The protocols also require everybody to agree to be quarantined in government facilities. The participant should cover all the cost associated with the quarantine. If the entrant is in possession of a certificate proving that he/she is free from COVID-19 and he/she has never been infected, they will be able to enter the country and just impose self-quarantine at the place where he is staying. Travelers will be interviewed and may be subject to additional checkups at the point of entry. Please contact Dejavato staff for the update information regarding the entry regulation

Participant Fee: 340 € or IDR 5.780.000/month (additional cost per week 70 Euro/week/person or IDR 1.190.000)
